No Evidence Of Profiteering

Although market prices took an in-explicable upturn last week, the apparent shellacking cattlemen have been taking on the prices they receive for beef con-tinues to be one of President Johnson's big election-year domestic problems.

To help solve that problem, Congress is poised for a sweeping investigation of pricing practices in general. It hopes to determine, among other things, just who is making the profit on beef.

What Congress is apt to find is that no one is making very much money on beef and a lot of people besides farmers are losing, although not to the degree the

THAT'S the conclusion, at least of Farm Journal magazine which sent a writer into the field to follow a steer from the farm to the meat counter and record the financial transactions along the way.

In tracking the progress of one steer, Farm Journal writer Ovid Bay reports in a copyright article that the farmer lost nearly $35 on the animal, the packing house "made" just over $2 and the chain store which sold the finished product lost more than $10.

If this is typical, Congress will be hard put to come up with evidence to sub-stantiate charges of excessive profiteering in the meat industry.

A number of factors enter into the farmer's loss, the packer's slight profit and the retailer's loss.

For one thing, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture figures, labor costs of food marketing firms have risen 16 per cent in the last five years. During that same period, farmers have taken a 21.1 per cent cut in the price received and the consumer is paying 5.8 per cent less for his meat.

IN ITS steer-tracking article, Farm Journal points out something most of us fail to consider when we talk about the disparity in what the farmer receives for his cattle and what we pay for steak.

When a farmer sells a choice 1,100pound steer, he receives something like 21 cents a pound. But when the packing house is finished with it, the salable carcass might weigh only 650 pounds.

Then the retail store goes to work on it, cutting away fat, bone and waste, and, with luck, ends up with 460 pounds it can

That's less than half the weight of the steer the farmer sold, which shows why prices paid by the packer and the housewife are so far apart.

Certainly a congressional investigation will be welcome if it can point the way to salvation for the beef raisers without thwacking the consumer in the pocketbook. But Farm Journal's findings indicate this is about as probable as raising a steer that yields nothing but steak.

Breakthrough In Energy

Earlier this month in a commencement address at Holy Cross College, President Johnson made a quiet announcement that in other circumstances would have set off fireworks. The remark was scarely more than noticed in routine news reports.

"In the past several months," he said, "we have achieved an economic breakthrough in the use of large-scale reactors for commercial power."

Since the first nuclear power plant started in 1957, this news had been awaited.

A step forward was made last February when the two largest manufacturers of nuclear generators announced sharp pride reductions. The reductions brought closer the time when nuclear power plants might ac-count for as much as half the electric energy generated in the United States; when nuclear plants would be competitive with Benefits would not be limited to production of electric energy. Many other uses for the heating potential of nuclear energy are foreseen. One of the most exciting is the use of nuclear energy to desalt sea water, which would overshadow all other results of a nuclear break-through. Most arid lands lack coal to supply traditional generating plants.

Atom-splitting, unfortunately, is still handicapped by the impression left by the use of the first atomic bombs at Hiroshima and Nagasaki. This causes every nuclear installation to be regarded with fearful misgivings and, in many instances, forthright opposition.

An atomic bomb and an atomic power reactor have only one thing in common. Both involved fission chain reactions. But a power reactor cannot become a bomb any more than a bomb can become a pow-

There never has been a grave nuclear incident. But before the nuclear breakthrough hailed by President Johnson can materialize, people must take the nuclear experts' word for it that fears of explosions and dangerous radiation are without

Sound Of Stupidity

As the July 4 holiday approaches, the sounds of a summer evening include explosions of firecrackers.

Time was when the snap, pop and boom marked both the anniversary of the birth of the nation's independence and the senseless blinding and maiming of thousands each year.

Today, the sound of fireworks except at safe locations by persons with permits is that of a violation of the law, a hazard to health and a salute not to independence but stupidity.

Soft Life, Soviet Style

Life really must be improving in Soviet labor camps.

An Associated Press dispatch from Moscow quotes the government newspaper Izvestia as complaining that Soviet labor camps have become country clubs where drunkards, prostitutes and other "parasite" enjoy sunbathing, good food and vodka.

Izvestia said the social misfits sent to detention centers for rehabilitation "are just warming themselves in the sun and they are fed. They should be made to work from dawn to dusk and they should be punished more."

This is quite a contrast to the picture usually painted of Soviet labor camp lifean existence of the most unbearable nature by any standards. Those who endured the misery of Siber-

Tom-Tom Beating War Chant

A Mohawk beauty, miffed at being fired as an Indian princess, is on the warpath. The object of her wrath is Chief William X. Wutinee, a 36-year-old Cree who heads the National Indian Council.

Miss Khan-Tineta Horn, a 22-year-old Indian maiden from the Caugnawaga Reservation near Montreal who earns her living by modeling and doing television work, put on her war paint and took to the war path that led straight to Ottawa and a pow-wow with Parliament. There she told the legislators that Chief Wutinee wanted to join the Black Muslims and has tried to get other Indian organizations to join with them.

SHE was fighting Chief Wutinee "like a Mohawk warrior," she said. But newspaper accounts reported she looked more like a kitten with claws bared as she accused the chief of misusing a $90,000 fund for Indian participation in the 1967 centennial celebration of Canada's union into one country.

She also told of "tracking" the chief from city to city, challenging him to meet her. "He dodged me—I think he's afraid to face me," she said in what probably was the understatement of the Mohawk

She claims she was fired illegally after she demanded a public accounting for the $90,000 raised for the centennial.

Chief Wutinee stole quietly into and out of Montreal last Sunday. He said the throneless princess made "stupid a'legations" and is trying to "destroy the

THE OPPOSITION, doing ket against his slate. Leading the insurgents was a Bostonian named William Belanger, who ran for president on a platform which promised, in effect, to give the union better leadership than it had had recently.

Belanger's running mate was a gentleman from Virginia, Wesley Cook, a man who did well in several universities and, while on leave from the union, served well in the U.S. diplomatic service for a few years. He ran for the union's second highest post - the secretarytreasurer's spot.

The Belanger - Cook ticket lost by a 608 to 340 count at their convention. That parley closed on June 5. Four days later the victorious Mr. Pollock took a few minutes out from being mentor to the proletariat to fire both men. Belanger had been New England regional director and Cook head of the synthetic yarn division.

APPARENTLY the union president did not believe the whole matter was worth the expenditure of much time. He tossed it off with the following "Dear Brother Belanger:

THE AMERICAN viewpoint has recently been expressed privately by high officials in many conferences with newspapermen. Deep disappointment has been voiced that our European allies who are also members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization have not been as cooperative as they could be in handling problems in the Far East.

The French, for example, say they don't want to see Southeast Asia communized, but at the same time they keep opposing military solutions, thus giving the impression to Moscow and Peking that the Allies are not going to put up a fight against continued aggression.

There has been too much talk in the last few months of apeasing Red China with promises of enlarged trade as well as diplomatic Red China with promises of enlarged trade as well as diplomatic recognition or membership in the United Nations.

Apparently Peking got the idea that the United States was willing to pay almost any price for peace but a distinct turn in the whole situation occurred recently when President Johnson decided that he was tired of vacillating policies. He is not interested in trying to achieve a status quo in which the Communists would retain the benefit of their aggressions in South-designing governments interested only in provoking more and more conflicts, particularly revolution, whether in Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia or Thailand, in all of which inflitration by the Red Chinese has been stead-It might be wondered why the United Nations doesn't undertake this job. Unfortunately, the Communists have so thoroughly can remain aloof. Ultimately, as happened in Korea, the United Nations will have to join with the United measures to repel aggression. Gen. Taylor, as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has been spending a good deal of his lem in Southeast Asia.

HE KNOWS the background of it throughly and, having him-self served in Korea, he is familiar with the problems of land warfare in the Asian world.

It isn't customary for a military man of such prominence suddenly to be chosen as amtime studying the military prob-bassador. Theoretically, an ambassador reports only to the secretary of state, but in this case, Gen. Taylor sees eye to eye with both Secretary of State Rusk and Secretary of Defense McNamara on all phases of the problem. Gen. Taylor, therefore, with his experience on the military side and with a foreknowledge of just how far the United States government will go to achieve its point, is virtually taking command of the whole situa-

The President and his Cabinet will be guided largely by what Gen. Taylor reports and advises. The mere fact that a military man has been chosen for this post indicates that a turn has come and that the dilatory process of negotiation has been abandoned in favor of direct action. The United States apparently has determined that the risk of war has to be taken if the entire Western Pacific is not to be lost to the Red Chinese.

Reds Stall On Peking

By Seymour Freidin BELGRADE

A battle royal on timing for a world Communist conference is raging between top European Communists and Soviet Premier vast meeting. The pressures on Khrushchev.

The Russians insist on the second week of November in Moscow as the date and place for a comradely confrontation with Red China. And nearly all European parties, however reluctantly, are agreed that the showdown session is inevitable. But some of the more freewheeling top Communists-Poles, Romanians, and Italians, whose party is the biggest in Europe outside of the Soviet Union-want to buy time. They urge delaying the meeting until, at the earliest, next spring.

Red China, which sees opportunity for further breakthroughs to rally support to the regime of Mai Tze-tung, demands four to five years preparation before the confrontation. The present in-between comrades want to use an extra six months to try frantically to patch together some kind compromise.

Khrushchev's hurry-up tactics in this affair have bothered and bewitched many outsiders. One persistent explanation offered is that he has lost practically every tactical fight so far with Red China. Therefore, the reasoning runs, he cannot afford stringing this out longer.

That brings up another serious and intriguing thought among European Communists, but not from the Yugoslavs who stay mum about it. The others contend, from available evidence, that Khrushchev is somewhat shaky as a result of the intercontinental feud with China. Therefore, he can't waste time. He must reconsolidate his position at home. so to speak, in Eastern Europe. With Soviet preparations for their proposed November meeting approaching a countdown stage, the Italian and Polish parties-opposed to a showdown meeting at which Red promisers may compel the Rus-

What Does NSM Mean to You?

NSM stands for National Selected Morticians, a non-profit organization of over 700 bona fide, independently owned mortuaries located in the U.S., Canada and a number of foreign countries.. Founded in 1917, NSM is a well established, international organization of funeral directors.

A funeral home belonging to NSM is your personal guarantee that the owner is pledged to the highest ethical standards as prescribed by NSM, and must maintain them in practice. NSM membership is by invitation, and only firms operating "bona fide" establishments are eligible to receive this invitation. To qualify, a funeral home must have their own licensed personnel, provide complete services and have their own building and equipment to render these services. They must operate in accord with fair business practices, including the open pricing on services in plain, understandable figures.

HOW ARE NSM STANDARDS MAINTAINED?

Every NSM member is inspected regularly by an impartial, fully qualified investigator. The NSM membership invitation is extended to a firm subject to review and approval by the Board of Control. In order to remain an NSM member, every firm has to maintain high standards of service.

This is the first year for the award. More than 80 Jaycees and their wives attended. Jerry Russell, a former Wellsville Jaycee, gave the invocation and served as master of ceremonies.

A smorgasbord dinner was served. Kevan thanked his officers and the members for their help in the past year.

Ron Herbel had blanked the Dodgers for eight innings before the Giants got a run off Don Drysdale on two hits, a walk and Orlando Cepeda's sacrifice fly. Herbel needed just three more outs for the victory. He didn't get any of them.

Ron Fairly and Frank Howard opened the Dodger ninth with singles and Giant Manager Alvin Dark lifted Herbel. O'Dell came on and when John Roseboro bunted for a hit loading the bases, Billy might've wished he was any place except the Candlestick Park mound.

But O'Dell bore down and fed Jim Gilliam a slider which the Dodger infielder popped up. Pinch hitter Lee Walls fanned on a fast ball and Maury Wills bounced out, leaving the three runners stranded.

The Phillies slipped to second In a disastrous 8-2 nightcap loss to the Cardinals after Chris Short hurled a five-hit shutout winning the opener 5-0.

Elsewhere in the NL, Milwaukee swept two from New York 7-6 and 9-0; Cincinnati ended a five-game Pittsburgh winning streak with a double victory, 6-2 and 6-5 and Chicago and Houston split, the Cubs winning the first game 10-2 and the Colts taking the nightcap 4-1 in 10 innings.

The Giant run came in the eighth after singles by Harvey Kuenn and Willie Mays and an intentional walk to Duke Snider loaded the bases.

Cepeda cracked a Drysdale pitch deep to right field and Howard made a spectacular catch saving an extra base hit. But Jesus Alou, running for Kuenn, scored after the catch, Government positions pay as high as $446.00 a month to start. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

Lincoln Service has helped thousands prepare for these tests every year since 1948. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government.

Mr. K Given Greeting On Norway Visit

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev arrived today in Norway, a country solid-ly committed to the Atlantic aliance and more interested in topless swimsuits than in Sovi-et-Norwegian relations.

A ragged cheer went up from a crowd in front of the Oslo City Hall as Khrushchev, barednead ed and looking rested after his two - day sail from Sweden, stepped ashore.

Norwegian Premier Einar Gerhardsen, who says Khrushchev's five-day visit has absolutely no political significance greeted the Soviet leader on the last leg of his Scandinavian

"I am glad your visit finally has been arranged," Gerhard-sen told Khrushchev. Earlier visits were called off because of hostile newspaper comment.

The Norwegian premier has described Khrushchev's trip as nothing more than a good will trip to return the visit I made to the Soviet Union in 1955."

In his welcoming remarks the premier said Norway and the Soviet Union have a common occasion to strife."

Safety Lights

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY One expense the homeowner

can do without is the cost associated with accidents. According to the National Safety Council and other authorities, a large portion of the accidents which plague this country occur right in the house - and many of them after dark.

After the lights have been turned out and the family has retired for the night, the house which seems so familiar during daylight hours takes on a new and often strange atmosphere. Halls seem unfamiliar, the location of the stairway is uncertain, and one feels quite lost in the darkness. The smallest ray of light from a window, a doorway or any other source immediately gives us our bearings and we are at ease.

Shastri, like his predecessor, the late Prime Minister Nehru. retained the foreign minister's portfolio when he formed his government. He also serves as minister for atomic energy.

A government spokesman issued this statement on Shastri's condition: "The prime minister's temperature is near normal now. He slept well last night. His general condition is good and he is cheerful."

"In a couple of days the prime minister may be in a position to attend to the business of government," an authoritative source said. Sunday night, Shastri's son, Hari, said his father would need at least a month's rest, and there was speculation some of his aides would take the reins of govern-

Dear Heloise: A year or so ago you gave us a marvelous w method for cooking spaghetti. I wouldn't use any other method after trying yours. . . I've been cooking not only spaghetti, elbow macaroni, egg shell macaroni and the regular long pieces of macaroni this way ever since, but also used your method for packaged noodles of various sizes with the same excellent results!

I thought you should print this method again in your column. I've never had a failure, and it's such a time saver since there is absolutely no pot-watching.

Fill a four-quart pot threefourths full of water and bring it to a full rolling boil. Add the amount of salt the package directions call for when you put the water on to boil.

After the water is bubbling fast and full, put in the spaghetti (macaroni or whatever), give it a quick stir, then im-mediately put a tight-fitting lid on the pot and turn the heat off completely.

Let this stand for exactly 20 minutes, (don't remove the lid during this time), then drain. You will have a perfectly cooked product and can proceed as usual with your recipe. Use the same 20-minute time for all the products mentioned above.

Airborne Vaccines Could Be Substitute For Needles, Pills

CORE Workers Stage Picket Session Before White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several hundred pickets from the Congress of Racial Equality held "a vigil for Mississippi freedom workers" in front of the White House Sunday night, holding lighted candles and chanting, "We shall overcome."

On a separate part of the sidewalk, 15 pickets from the American Nazi party paraded, carrying the American flag, the swastika of Nazi Germany and placards that read, "Who needs niggers" and "Send troops to New York to protect white victims from black crime."

There was no word on whether President Johnson, who had returned to the White House

CATANIA, Sicily A - Firsttime visitors to Sicily are often surprised when they order orange juice and get a glass of something which looks like tomato juice instead. But it isn't tomato. It's the Sanguinello blood orange Sicilians prefer above all others. The Sanguinello looks like an ordinary orange on the outside, with only the faintest blush of red, but inside it is extra juicy, extra tasty and red as a ripe tomato.

Junior Editors Quiz on-CHEESE

QUESTION: How is cheese made?

ANSWER: Cheese, one of the most valuable and nutritious of foods, starts with the cow (1.) In the cheese-making plants her milk flows into large vats that can hold up to 20,-000 pounds of milk. About 11 pounds of milk are needed to make a single pound of cheese. In (2) a "starter" culture of lactic-acid bacteria is being poured in, separating the solids or curds of the milk from the whey or liquid part. Rennet extract further helps curdle the milk. In (3) the curd, having been cut into small cubes, is being pushed to both sides of the vat to allow the whey to run off. Further cutting and salting prepares the cheese to be wrapped in parchment and squeezed into metal boxes (4) after which these boxes will go to the curing rooms. If cured for a short time, the flavor will be mild. American, or Cheddar cheese, is usually cured from two months to two years; the longer the curing, the sharper the flavor. Different variations of the cheesemaking process produce different varieties of cheese-with rocquefort, for example, the addition of penicillin mould gives
